

Heartfelt apology to daughter for absence

My dearest [Daughter's name],

My heart is heavy as I write this letter. I know that missing your school play was devastating for you, and seeing the disappointment in your eyes when you looked for me in the audience will haunt me forever.

There is no excuse for not being there. Work will always be there, but these precious moments of watching you grow and shine will never come again. I failed as your parent in that moment, and I am truly sorry.

You practiced so hard for weeks, and you were so excited to show me what you had learned. You deserved to have both your parents there, cheering you on and feeling proud of the amazing person you're becoming.

I promise to do better. I've already spoken with my boss about prioritizing family events, and I'm going to make sure this never happens again. You are the most important thing in my life, and my actions should always reflect that.

I love you more than all the stars in the sky, and I hope you can forgive your imperfect but devoted parent.

All my love,

Mom/Dad
