

Preliminary apology for online harassment

Subject: Apology for Online Harassment

Dear [Victim's Name],

I am reaching out to apologize for my inappropriate online behavior toward you. I recognize that my posts, messages, and comments were hurtful, invasive, and constituted cyberbullying.

I understand that my actions may have caused you significant emotional distress and potentially damaged your reputation or relationships. Online harassment can be particularly harmful because it can feel inescapable and public.

I want you to know that I have immediately ceased all inappropriate online contact and have removed the offensive content where possible. I am also taking steps to ensure this behavior does not continue by seeking counseling and taking a break from social media platforms.

I realize that an apology cannot undo the harm I have caused, but I wanted you to know that I recognize the severity of my actions and am committed to changing my behavior.

If there are specific steps you would like me to take to remedy the situation further, please let me know through appropriate channels.

I am truly sorry for the distress I have caused you.
