Subject: Are These Tiny Charges Playing Hide and Seek?

Hi [Bank Team],

I've spotted a few tiny charges on my account recently that don't seem to match any of my spending. While the amounts are small, they keep popping up like sneaky little gremlins, and I'd like to know what's causing them. Could you please explain or, better yet, reverse them if they're mistakes?

I'm hoping this can be sorted quickly, so I can get back to trusting that my account is safe and transparent.

Thanks in advance,
