

Growing Apart

Dear [Name],

It's important to be honest about our feelings. It seems like we've been growing apart, and it's becoming difficult to maintain the connection we once had. This decision is not easy, but I believe it's the right step for both of us to find the companionship and understanding we need.

Take care,

[Your Name]