

Informal announcement to friend group

Hey everyone,

I wanted to let you all know that [Partner's name] and I have decided to end our engagement. I know this might come as a surprise since we seemed happy, but sometimes things just don't work out the way we hope.

We're both doing okay and trying to move forward positively. No drama, no bad blood - just two people who realized they're not right for each other in the long run.

I really appreciate all the excitement you've shown for our wedding, and I'm sorry things didn't work out differently. Your friendship means the world to me, and I hope I can count on your support during this transition.

Let's plan to hang out soon - I could use some friend time!

Much love,

[Your name]

Get more templates here:

<https://www.lettersandtemplates.com/letters/broken-engagement-announcement>