

Divorce Or Separation Agreement Letter

Dear [Spouse's Name],

I am writing to formally propose a divorce or separation agreement to dissolve our marriage. After careful consideration and reflection, we have come to the difficult decision that our relationship is no longer working and it is in our best interest to move forward separately.

We understand that this is a difficult and emotional time, but we both agree that it is important to approach this situation with respect, dignity, and understanding. We are committed to working together in a cooperative and amicable manner to reach a fair and reasonable agreement that considers the needs of both parties.

As such, we propose the following terms:

[Division of Assets]: We agree to divide our marital assets and debts in an equitable manner.

[Specify the assets and how they will be divided.]

[Child Custody and Support]: If we have children, we agree to share custody in a way that is in the best interest of the children. We will work together to create a parenting plan that outlines the schedule and responsibilities of each parent. We also agree to pay child support in accordance with state guidelines.

[Spousal Support/Alimony]: [Include if applicable.]

[Other Terms]: [Include any other terms or agreements that you have reached, such as healthcare, retirement plans, etc.]

We understand that this agreement is not final until it is signed by both parties and filed with the appropriate court. We also understand that we each have the right to seek legal advice and representation during this process.

Please review this agreement and let me know if you have any concerns or questions. I believe that we can work together to reach a fair and reasonable resolution that allows us to move forward in a positive and productive manner.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
