

Creative campaign-specific decline

Subject: Plot Twist - We're Saying Thanks But No Thanks!

Hey [Name],

What an unexpected surprise to receive your donation offer! While we absolutely love your enthusiasm and support for our cause, we have to hit the pause button on this one.

Here's the deal: our current campaign "Operation Independence" has very specific parameters, and we've actually exceeded our fundraising goals (amazing problem to have, right?). Taking additional funds would actually complicate our project timeline and budget allocation.

But here's what you CAN do - spread the word about our next initiative launching in [month]. We'll need champions like you to help us get the word out, and that kind of support is honestly more valuable than gold right now.

Thanks for being awesome and thinking of us!

Cheers,

[Campaign Team]

Get more templates here:

<https://www.lettersandtemplates.com/letters/donation-rejection-denial-refusal-letter>