

Parent's heartfelt congratulations to child

My precious [Son/Daughter],

As I write this letter, my heart is overflowing with so much love, pride, and joy that I can barely find the words to express how I feel about your engagement to [Partner's Name].

From the day you were born, I have dreamed of the moment when you would find someone who would love you as deeply and completely as you deserve. Watching your relationship with [Partner's Name] blossom has been one of the greatest joys of my life. I see how happy you are together, how you bring out the best in each other, and how your love has made you both stronger and more beautiful people.

[Partner's Name] is not just gaining a wonderful spouse – they are gaining our entire family. We have welcomed them into our hearts completely, and we couldn't be more thrilled to officially call them our [son/daughter]-in-law soon.

As you begin this new chapter of your life, please know that your [father/mother] and I are here for you both, always. Whether you need help planning your wedding, advice about marriage, or simply someone to share your excitement with, we will be right here cheering you on.

You have grown into such an incredible person, and seeing you this happy fills my heart with indescribable pride and joy. I cannot wait to walk you down the aisle and witness the beautiful ceremony where you and [Partner's Name] will become husband and wife.

Congratulations, my darling. You are loved beyond measure.

All my love always,

Mom/Dad
