

Casual and friendly speech

Hello everyone,

I'll keep this short and sweet because the food smells too good to wait any longer. Today is about celebrating my son and his amazing new wife. Honestly, I couldn't be happier for them.

[Groom's Name], you've always been a great son, even when you pretended to know better than your dad (which, let's face it, was most of the time). But seeing you today, I know you made the best decision of your life—marrying [Bride's Name].

So let's raise our glasses and toast to their happiness. May their home always be filled with laughter, love, and maybe a little less arguing than I had with your mother.

Cheers!

Get more templates here:

<https://www.lettersandtemplates.com/letters/father-of-the-groom-sample-speech>