

Friendship Break Up Letter

Dear [Name],

I am writing to you with a heavy heart as I have come to the difficult decision to end our friendship.

This is not a decision I have made lightly, and it is with a lot of sadness that I say goodbye to a friendship that has been a part of my life for a long time.

Over the past few months/years, I have noticed that our relationship has been changing, and we have grown apart. We no longer have the same interests, and it feels like we are on different paths in life. I have tried to work on our friendship, but it seems like we are not able to connect anymore.

Our conversations have become forced, and we seem to be going through the motions of being friends rather than genuinely enjoying each other's company.

I want you to know that this is not about anything you have done wrong. It is simply that our friendship has run its course, and it is time for us to go our separate ways. I will always cherish the memories we shared together and the good times we had. You were there for me during some of the toughest times in my life, and I will always be grateful for that.

I hope you understand that this decision is not easy for me, and it is not a reflection of your worth as a person. You are an amazing individual, and I wish you nothing but the best in your future endeavors. I hope you find the happiness and success that you deserve.

I will always remember the good times we shared and the bond we had. However, it is time for us to move on, and I hope that we can both do so gracefully. I wish you all the best, and I hope that you find new friendships that will bring you joy and fulfillment.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
