

Funny but Polite Injury Claim Email

Subject: Filing an Injury Claim (Sadly, Not a Comedy Sketch)

Dear [Claims Officer's Name],

I wish I were writing to share a funny story, but unfortunately, this one ends with me in the emergency room. On [date], I managed to trip over [hazard], and while it could have been a slapstick moment, it left me with a very real injury and medical bills. Attached are the doctor's notes and receipts, proving it wasn't just a clumsy performance.

I'm formally filing a claim for compensation. Hopefully, the only thing that gets hurt next time is my pride, not my body. Thank you for handling this with care.

Warm regards,

[Your Full Name]

Get more templates here: <https://www.lettersandtemplates.com/letters/injury-claim-letter>