

Lighthearted and humorous welcome message

Subject: Welcome to Middle School—Fasten Your Seatbelts!

Dear Students,

Congratulations! You™ve officially entered middle school—the land of lockers, group projects, and the mystery of who sits with who at lunch. Don™t worry, you™ll survive (and probably even thrive).

This is the time to discover new things, laugh a lot, and maybe even figure out how to open your locker in under 30 seconds. Teachers might give you homework, but they also give you knowledge—and that™s way cooler in the long run.

So buckle up, keep your pencils sharp, and get ready for an unforgettable adventure. We™re glad you™re here!

Sincerely,

A Fellow Survivor of Middle School
