

Casual Response - Personal Dispute Between Neighbors

Subject: Re: Your Letter About the Fence

Hi [Neighbor's Name],

I got your letter about the fence situation, and I wanted to respond because I think there might be some misunderstanding here.

I looked into the property line issue you mentioned, and according to the survey I had done when I bought the house, the fence is actually on my property. I'm happy to show you the documentation if you'd like to see it. I really didn't put it up to upset you – I just needed to keep my dog in the yard.

I understand you're concerned about your view, and I appreciate you reaching out instead of just getting lawyers involved. Maybe we could talk about this over coffee? I'm sure we can figure something out that works for both of us. I've been happy living next to you, and I'd hate for a fence to ruin that.

Let me know if you want to chat this week. I'm usually home after 6 pm on weekdays.

Thanks,

[Your Name]
