

funny retirement email to employer

Subject: Hanging Up My Work Boots

Dear [Manager's Name],

After [number of years] of loyal service, countless cups of coffee, and way too many meetings, I've decided it's finally time to retire! My last working day will be [last working date].

I promise to hand over my tasks responsibly, though I can't guarantee I won't sneak away early a few times to "practice" being retired. Thank you for making this workplace such a fun and rewarding environment.

I look forward to the next chapter "one with no alarms, no deadlines, and hopefully more sunshine!

Best regards,

[Your Name]

Get more templates here:

<https://www.lettersandtemplates.com/letters/retirement-letter-to-employer>