

Informal Suggestion Email to CEO About Team Engagement

Subject: A Quick Thought on Boosting Team Engagement

Hi [CEO's First Name],

I wanted to quickly share an idea that might help with team engagement. I've noticed that when we have cross-department interactions, morale and creativity tend to improve. Maybe we could organize a casual monthly "Coffee Connect" where different teams share what they're working on.

It wouldn't have to be formal—just a short session to keep everyone inspired and connected. I think it could really build unity across departments.

Thanks for your time and for always being open to new ideas!

Best,

[Your First Name]
